MATH MAGICAL ASSEMBLY

This is a high energy elementary math show, that touches upon addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fractions, probability, and more. Using magic, comedy, and other tools of the trade, Brian will help our kids discover that not only is math fun, but they need to study math to be on a better path. Brian Richards will also teach your students a cool magic trick that will sharpen their math skills. They will be able to take this trick home and wow their friends and families.
